DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The formal drawings were received on April 16, 2004. These drawings are acceptable.

Specification

2. The correction to the title of the invention is acknowledged. This title is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-26 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The prior art of record, taken alone or in combination, fails to teach the construction of:

a rotor as described on independent claim 1, comprising a plurality of notches having an open end at said outer periphery and substantially aligned radially and coextensive radially with at least one of said skew portions, wherein at least one of said notches is occupied by a metal;

a rotor for an electric motor as described on independent claim 14, comprising a plurality of notches having an open end at said outer periphery and substantially aligned radially and coextensive radially with at least one of said skew portions, and a central rotor shaft opening, wherein at least one of said notches is occupied by a metal and remaining of said notches are occupied by at least one permanent magnet; and an electric motor as described on independent claim 21, comprising:

a plurality of notches having an open end at said outer periphery and substantially aligned radially and coextensive radially with at least one of said skew portions;

a plurality of secondary conductors extending through said slots, wherein at least one of said notches are occupied by a metal and remaining of said notches are occupied by at least one permanent magnet, wherein the at least one permanent magnet is magnetized to form a number of poles equal to the number of poles formed by the second main winding.

Dependent claims 2-13, 15-20, and 22-26 are considered allowable by their respective dependence on allowed independent claims 1, 14, and 21.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
